

Education: Every Child's Right

Pani Deogam belongs to munda tribes was an out of school child. Most of her time was spent in taking care of her siblings, doing household chores and collecting forest produces.

When she started attending the JEETA's learning centre, she liked the playful way of study and showed a desire to study further. She enrolled in class 4 and continued her studies till class 12.

After that she joined JEETA as a volunteer and worked on the problems of her village. She is now a social entrepreneur and leading initiative on agriculture, water and sanitation and addressing issues of gender.

About JEETA

Joint Endeavour for Emancipation Training & Action for women (JEETA), as not for profit women-led organization, commenced its journey during the year 1994 due to the inexorable efforts of a handful of young women with social work bent of mind and dedication to work for the underprivileged in the remote villages of Angul and Deogarh Districts where the development is in the nascent stage. Now the organisation has expanded as a resource agency on women empowerment to other regions.
